

Casey Resigns Commissioner Work on Monday

CALVIN CASEY

County Commissioner Calvin Casey from Precinct 4 filed his resignation with the Commissioners Court Monday to become effective August 1. Mr. Casey states that it is necessary for his family to move to California because of the health of his daughter.

The vacancy will be filled by the Commissioners Court for the unexpired term of Mr. Casey. Regrets of the resignation of Mr. Casey were expressed by all members of the court and citizens of the county who were informed of the resignation of Mr. Casey. His work on the court has been highly satisfactory with both the citizens within his precinct and to citizens throughout the county.

His letter of resignation follows: It is with deepest regret that I tender my resignation as Commissioner of Randall County, Precinct No. 4, to take effect on or before August 1, 1947.

We are moving to Northern California where we purchased a farm a year ago. The chief reason for our moving at this time is to benefit the health of our daughter who is suffering with asthma and hay fever. Doctors recommend a change of climate as the best possibility for a cure.

We are retaining our property in Randall County except for the farm equipment which has been sold to be delivered after wheat harvest. The farm has been leased for two years.

It has been a real privilege to work with the people of the precinct and the county as a whole. The fine spirit shown by the Randall County business men, the Commissioners Court, and other county officials has aided me very much in carrying on my work. I do sincerely appreciate having had the privilege of working with the Commissioners Court and for the people in my precinct.

Again may I express my deep appreciation for the wonderful cooperation of the Commissioners Court and other county officials. Through this cooperation I have been able to dispatch the county business entrusted to me to the very best of my ability.

Substation Will Be Located in Student Union

The postoffice department has accepted the recommendation of the inspector who recently made a survey of Canyon for the establishment of a Substation to be located at West Texas State. The office will be designated as Station No. 1, and will be located in the Student Union building. According to information received, the Substation will be available to all who wish to use it.

At the same time the recommendation of the inspector against the establishment of city free delivery was approved because of the lack of interest on the part of citizens for this type of mail service.

Station No. 1 is authorized to open on July 1.

Under the terms of the contract the College is to furnish postoffice boxes, office equipment and adequate force to handle the mail.

The department will deliver mail to the station from the local post-office and collect the mail for dispatching.

Details for opening the substation are being worked out between President J. A. Hill and Assistant Postmaster D. M. Foster.

Property Owners To Vote on Bond Issue Very Soon

Property owners of Randall county will be given the opportunity to vote on farm-to-market paving bonds in August or September.

Meeting Tuesday night, the road committee of the Randall County Farm Bureau decided that harvest would require too much time of the farmers to hold an election.

Petitions will be prepared in time for the July meeting of the road committee, and these will be circulated for an election to be held at a later date.

In view of the fact that the legislature failed to provide for farm-to-market roads, it was deemed urgent that Randall county do its own road building as quickly as possible. A revised program has been adopted, and when the election is called the exact roads to be paved will be shown on the county map, and the estimated cost on each piece of property in the county will be available.

The Chamber of Commerce has dropped the proposals to vote bonds for the airport and the two community houses, for the present at least, states Delbert Lowes, president of the Chamber.

Local Churches Join To Conduct Vacation School

The Vacation Bible School of the Christian and Presbyterian Churches will begin at the Presbyterian Church on Monday morning at nine o'clock. Classes for boys and girls, ages 4 to 15, will be held each morning, Monday through Friday, for two weeks. Worship, Bible study, creative activities, and play will enable the pupils to enjoy this experience in Christian living.

On Sunday morning during the Sunday School hour, the Rev. K. L. Armstrong, a former missionary to Persia or Iran, and now a teacher in Stephens College, Columbia, Missouri, will speak to the senior and adult department and Mrs. Armstrong will speak to the children's department.

For this Father's Day, the pastor, Rev. Robert W. Jones, will preach on the theme, "Look Up and Say 'Father'." This will be his last message to this congregation.

Citizens Liable For Damage Done By Poor Sidewalks

City Commissioner S. H. Condon points out a situation of which few citizens are aware.

Property owners who neglect repairs of the sidewalks around their homes are liable for damages should any person be injured because of the neglect of the owners in making repairs.

Most business house owners are aware of their obligation in keeping their sidewalks repaired. Practically all business firms carry liability insurance in case of injury of civilians who use the sidewalks.

Few property owners know of their liability in regard to sidewalks around their homes, and therefore do not carry such insurance.

Mary Louise and Dorothy Ann Higdon, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Higdon of this city, have returned from a two-weeks visit in the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Haynes, in Santa Fe, N. M.

Henson Outlined Plan For City Park on Tuesday

Plans for operating a city park for the benefit of the children of Canyon, together with adequate facilities for adults were presented to the Rotary Club Tuesday by Virgil Henson.

Mr. Henson proposed that four blocks be secured south of Tenth Avenue on 19th Street, which is six blocks south of the Methodist Church. 19th Street is paved south to 8th Avenue, and the last two blocks should be paved if the city park is located there.

This is vacant land, on which taxes have not been paid for a number of years.

Utilities run along the north side of the land, making these connections available with little cost.

There are no residences adjoining the proposed site.

Mr. Henson finds that adequate playground facilities may be bought for $1,500. The cost of the land would be little, excepting delinquent taxes.

The four blocks could be developed at much less cost than other locations which have been considered. If more land is desired, there are blocks south of these in the same shape as the four proposed blocks, and the city owns land to the west of the site. The proposed plot of ground is sufficiently large for the installation of picnic units, tennis, softball and other park activities.

Mr. Henson inspected a similar park which has been established at Hobbs, N. M., and is enthusiastic over the possibilities of such a park for Canyon. The College has many surplus trees which could be given proposed park.

In view of the fact that Canyon people have talked a lot about establishing adequate play grounds, and have done nothing in the past, Mr. Henson believes now is the time for action.

President Bob Jarrett will appoint a committee to work with the City Commission and other civic organizations of Canyon for the investigation of this project.

Visitors were: Roland Pease of Tucson, Ariz.; Bud Methin of Abilene; Bill McClendon, Jr., Arch Hunsley, A. G. Attebury, E. C. Wagner, W. W. Rusk, E. Kancher, Arthur Osgood, E. L. Prey, J. E. Legislature Gave Museum $90,000 If Money Found

Before the legislature adjourned Friday, an appropriation for $90,000 was passed by the Senate for the completion of the Museum on the campus of West Texas State.

The House had passed the bill for $125,000 several months ago, but the Senate reduced the bill to $90,000.

Senator Grady Hazlewood and Representative Blake Timmons took the bill to the Comptroller, who refused to approve the measure since the legislature had spent all estimated funds.

Governor Jester stated he would not act upon the measure until he had checked the departmental appropriation bill with the view of reducing amounts in this measure.

The Governor signed the educational bill Saturday, but President J. A. Hill had not received a copy of the bill Wednesday. He must make a report to the Board of Regents by next Monday on the estimated expenses for the coming two years. The appropriation bill is in lump sum.

Gun Blast Stopped Burglary Sunday Morning; Seven Young Men Drew Sentences Tuesday In District Court

A shotgun blast early Sunday morning put an end to the activities of one burglar who confessed to having a part in the series of burglaries on Canyon business firms during the past month. He is George Martin, who gave his home as Portales. He is on parole from the Colorado penitentiary.

Taylor & Sons store had been broken into on two previous Saturday nights. Wilford Taylor, Jr., stated Saturday afternoon that he had a hunch the same bunch would try it again that night. The store was locked up at the usual hour Saturday. Mr. Taylor, accompanied by his brother, Jack, and Ed Davis, nightwatchman, returned to the store at 1:30 Sunday morning. They found two men going through the stock in the store.

Wilford was armed with a shotgun and called to the two men to halt as they started to run for hiding. Failing to stop, Mr. Taylor fired and Martin received the blast in his left shoulder. Officers arrived and Sheriff M. E. Cantrell directed that the wounded man be taken to Amarillo where it was necessary to amputate his arm Monday. He is under guard at the hospital under indictment of the Randall county grand jury.

The other man, Ray Eugene McFarlan, was taken to jail after surrendering at the Taylor store; was indicted Monday and given a six year sentence in the penitentiary Tuesday when he pleaded guilty. He is an escapee from the Indiana prison.

The two men confessed to having been engaged in a series of petty burglaries in Canyon during the past month. Eighteen cases of burglary have been pulled off in Canyon since May 18. Little cash has been found but it is now believed that the merchandise loss is great.

Several business men have been staying in their stores at night during the past week, armed against any attempt of burglary.

Seven men were given penitentiary sentences in district court Tuesday. Robert DiCarlo drew four years for the assault with intent to rob at the Canyon Airport.

E. C. Parker and J. A. Cantwell drew four years each in the theft of hogs from the Ross Craig farm.

John Mitchell Ross, Perry Mayner and Glenn Elbert House received seven years for armed robbery at the Beard Service Station.

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell stated Wednesday morning that thanks are due the people of Canyon for their fine cooperation with the officers to solving the series of crimes. He estimates that the loss of merchandise, especially cigarettes has been large. He urges that business firms refuse to buy merchandise from unknown persons, and asks that his office be called in case merchandise is offered for sale.

Harvest To Be In Full Swing By June 23rd

Wheat harvest will be in full blast in Randall county by June 23rd, according to observers of the big harvest. Some wheat will be cut before that time, but the bulk of harvest will not be started before the 23rd. The average harvest time in past years has been June 20, with favorable weather.

According to information which the News has been able to gather this week, the estimate of around 4,000,000 bushels still stands.

The known acreage of wheat is set and 275,000 acres. This is the largest wheat acreage in the history of the county. Last year the acreage was 233,000 acres.

The hot winds of last week cut the yield somewhat, following the excessive rains and cold weather.

Rust has not hurt the wheat crop materially, but it is now revealed that green bugs have hurt the crop.

Observers are of the opinion that the average yield will be around 17 bushels to the acre, which will set a record for the county.

Farmers are busy getting their machines in order for the big harvest which will tax the capacity of all farm machinery.

Penicillin Aids Scarlet Fever

Use of New Wonder Drugs Halts Complications From Disease.

PHILADELPHIA.—Dr. Joseph C. Doane, clinical professor of medicine at Temple University Medical school, declared that penicillin, one of the new wonder drugs, had virtually altered the entire course of scarlet fever. He said that with careful use of penicillin "88 cases of scarlet fever under observation showed the complications—which are many—are practically obliterated."

Dr. Doane said that "the whole course of this disease has been changed by penicillin and streptomycin." He added that with sulfa drugs, the mortality rate of pneumonia was cut to 8 per cent.

Gives Warning.

He warned, however, against indiscriminate use of the new wonder drugs. "Many doctors reach for penicillin before they reach for their stethoscopes."

Use of the miracle drugs "as shock drugs" was described by the speaker, who added that while the medical profession has made vast strides in use of these drugs since 1943, there is still much to be learned.

Dr. Harold A. Zintel of University of Pennsylvania hospital declared that penicillin has given the medical profession an entirely new field of therapy.

Dr. Zintel said that penicillin has "proved one of the most potent therapeutic agents known. Especially is it valuable in surgery." Sharing medical profession's respect with penicillin, he said, is streptomycin, which "has proved to be a valuable agent in many cases where penicillin and the sulfa drugs have failed."

Dr. Zintel said that a combination of penicillin and streptomycin has been "most effective in the treatment of peritonitis" and the oral use of streptomycin "is highly satisfactory as an agent for reducing the bacteria in the system" prior to operations for intestinal disorders.

Mortality Rate Lowered.

Dr. Isadore S. Ravdin, professor of surgery and head of the surgical department of University of Pennsylvania, declared in a prepared paper that cancer of the intestine is no respecter of age.

The disease, he declared, is "very common and while as a rule it seems most frequently to occur in those past 40, it can occur at a very much earlier age."

Dr. Ravdin, in his paper read by Dr. Kendall A. Elsom of University of Pennsylvania hospital, declared that through decompression of the intestines, blood transfusions and the use of drugs, the medical profession has reduced the mortality rate of this disease to a point "where there is less risk to resection of the intestines than there is to operations for a ruptured appendix."

Dr. Ravdin said that the final results of treatment for cancer of this type are good. He added that "50 or more per cent of the patients operated on are alive and well at the end of a five-year period."

New Sawdust Plastic Solves Serious Problem of Salvage

DURHAM, N. H.—A new sawdust plastic has been created at University of New Hampshire which has many uses and promises to solve the problem of salvaging sawdust and wood shavings in lumber operations.

The new product, made by combining green saw dust with resin as a binder, is expected to use every bit of wood waste now lost in the forests when trees are cut down.

It is a low-cost, mass-production product. It can be put in a mold, shaped into whatever article is desired, heat-treated and painted exactly like wood.

580,000 Are Let Out of Navy At Great Lakes in One Year

CHICAGO.—More were discharged from the navy at the Great Lakes naval training center in 1946 at a rate 17 times greater than inductions, headquarters of the 4th naval district reported. The report showed 580,000 discharged and 34,000 inducted into the navy at Great Lakes.

The navy said its conversion to a peacetime basis was virtually completed and the big task ahead of the naval district in 1947 is organization of a reserve training program.

Personnel at Great Lakes decreased from 36,000 in 1945 to 16,500 in 1946.

Dismiss Indictment of Man Who Once Slapped Tojo

TOKYO, JAPAN.—The international war crimes tribunal dismissed the indictment against Dr. Shumei Okawa, who startled the early days of the trial by slapping Eldest Tojo on the head. The tribunal acted after receiving medical reports that Okawa, who had been on trial in absentia, was incapable of "conducting his defense." Okawa, wartime propagandist, had been confined to a mental institution under treatment for a brain disease. The judges ordered him kept in custody.

George Stokes To Teach at Wayland

George Stokes of Plainview, 1940 graduate of West Texas State and former music director of the Baptist Church in Canyon where he has many friends, has been employed by Wayland College to assist in the summer financial campaign of the school, and will teach in the speech department there this fall. Mr. Stokes served as educational director of the First Baptist Church in Plainview before going to the army, and during the war he served in Africa and Europe, having an important post with the military government set up in France immediately after United States troops occupied the country.

After returning home Mr. Stokes entered Baylor University in Waco where he has recently received a Master's Degree. While there he made a distinguished record in religious dramatic productions which were presented in Waco and several other Texas cities.

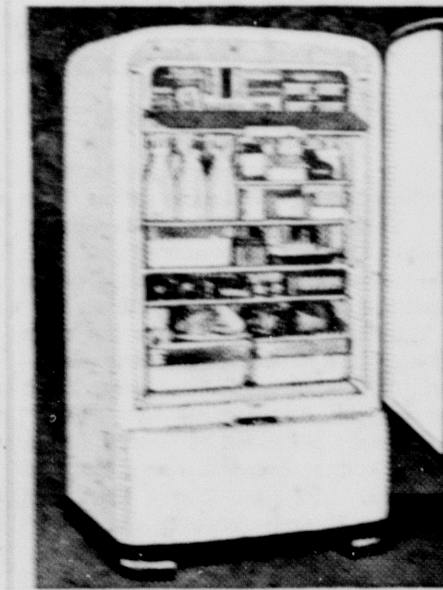

Argentina's demands that her neighbors pay high prices for her wheat and meat are creating bitterness that few countries attempt to conceal. Recently the Peron Government offered to sell wheat for the startling high price of $5.25 a bushel. That is the price the buyer was asked to pay in Buenos Aires. Shipping charges would be in addition. Critics outside the Peron Government are saying that the bitterness being aroused by Argentina's price policies may turn out to be a serious obstacle to Argentine hopes of forming a political bloc in South America.

Although there is outward optimism, officials are expressing privately their genuine concern over the inability to get recovery going on a healthy basis in the unified British-American zone of Germany. Their concern is not all with costs. A major apprehension is that German workers, through their labor unions, may turn toward Russia. Communists are making progress in their efforts to infiltrate into the unions of the West.

Effects of The Atomic Bomb Are Being Studied

As everyone knows, when the first atomic bomb was exploded in New Mexico the scientists were in very serious disagreement as to just what the results would be. One physicist of standing was of the opinion that it might very well start a chain reaction which would literally destroy the earth. Later, when the bomb was used for military purposes in Hiroshima and Nagasaki, very little was known as to its possible effect on human and plant life. This ignorance was partially dissipated by studies of the results in Japan made after the war. Then came the Bikini tests, which were designed to clear up many a point which still puzzled the experts.

Little by little, facts showing just what the atomic bomb can and cannot do—in its present form—have been made available. This information is the result of the most careful and thorough research, much of which was made for the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission which is starting the colossal job of developing some kind of a plan for control and use of the atomic energy in all possible forms. In a recent issue, the United States News carried an excellent summing up of the material which has so far been made public.

First of all, the theory that the bomb could totally destroy great numbers of population—or that a series of strategically-placed bombs could virtually eliminate the United States as a strong and functioning nation—is not supported by the scientists. Deaths at Hiroshima mostly occurred within a radius of 1,000 yards from the center of the blast. Practically no deaths occurred outside an area of 3.1 square miles. And, within this area, about half of the people survived, and virtually all of these have completely recovered from injuries and illnesses sustained. However, the bomb did kill 80,000 people at Hiroshima—by blast, by radiation, and by fire and drowning.

Stories to the effect that the bomb caused permanent sterility, fatal radiation sickness and induced cancer have not been sustained. In most cases radiation sickness passed in a matter of weeks, and the only result of the bomb now appearing on Japanese survivors is disfiguring but not serious scar tissue on faces and bodies. Temporary sterility was common, but disappeared shortly.

Plant life in the Hiroshima blast area shows some signs of abnormality—such as white leaves caused by radioactivity. But the profusion of growth seems about the same as before.

At Bikini, nearly 5,000 animals were exposed on target ships during the two bomb tests. The air burst killed some 20 per cent of these—ten per cent by radioactivity and ten per cent by blast. The underwater explosion was much more lethal—more than 60 per cent of the animals perished, largely by radiation. According to the U. S. News, "Many of these died from lack of prompt treatment." Surviving animals were definitely affected, and were restless and irritable for a week or two. Some developed leukemia. Studies made of sick animals, it is said, have resulted in an effective treatment for radiation sickness.

From the information thus gained, the scientists have projected what an atomic attack might do to United States cities. One Nagasaki-type bomb (a more advanced type than that used on Hiroshima) bursting in the air would be lethal over some 3.1 miles. That amounts to 2 per cent of the area of Detroit, 4.3 per cent of Washington, D. C., and 0.9 per cent of New York. It is forecast that deaths would be proportionately less than in Japanese cities, due to superior American building construction.

An underwater burst in the harbor of New York, the forecasts go on, would cause few immediate deaths.

But radiation sickness would soon kill people in the path of the spray. Streets and buildings touched by the spray might remain radioactive for years, and could be used only for very brief periods of time. The size of the area thus made unfit for ordinary use would, of course, be determined by the extent of the spray of contaminated water.

Summing up, the scientific view seems to be that the atomic bomb is the most terrible weapon yet devised by man—but that, so far at least, there is nothing to indicate that it could wholly or even partially destroy life on this planet. However, it must be remembered that the bomb is very much in its infancy. It has an extremely low efficiency—much less than one per cent of the mass actually explodes, and all the rest is harmlessly dissipated. If means are ever found whereby the entire mass can be exploded, the effects of a single bomb may be multiplied hundreds of thousands of times. Thus, the present bombs may simply be the forerunners of infinitely more powerful instruments of destruction—precisely as the Wright's crude and toy-like airplane was the forerunner of the great aircraft of today.

There are atomic physicists—some of them at the very top of their profession—who believe that, in time, atomic power may be developed to where it could effectively eliminate animal and perhaps plant life from whole sections of the world. But apparently, it is far from that peak of lethal efficiency now.

Baseball Hopes To Be Given Big League Trial

Memphis, Texas—All ambitious young ball players between the ages of 16 and 22 are invited to display their talents before the New York Yankee Scouts here beginning June 10 and continuing three days.

Burleigh Grimes and his try-out camp unit of Wattle Holm and Tom Greenwade will open the area Yankee try-out camp at the City Ball Grounds. The Yanks' wide spread system of try-out programs has provided the opportunity for many youngsters to launch themselves on a successful career as a professional ball player.

Grimes has announced his training will begin at 10 o'clock the morning of June 10 and the session would consist of running, throwing, infield work-outs and batting practice routines as well as actual games in order to best judge reaction under competitive situations.

Players must pay their own expense to the camp and provide for their own uniform, glove and shoes. However, those players signed to a contract will have such expenses reimbursed.

Ernest "Dutch" Lorbeer, famed Yankee scout who has produced many diamond heroes, will be here to sign up any potential, big-time calibre, player.

All boys who believe they have the necessary qualifications to become a major league ball player are urged to report to the Memphis ball grounds. There is no red tape. Making an appearance at the site is all that is needed for admission.

SOWING and REAPING

After every sowing there must some day be a reaping. In whatever church you may attend you'll be taught that "Whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." These men sowed wheat, good wheat, and as you can well see they are reaping a bountiful harvest.

Stop, my brother—what of the seed you are sowing, as along life's way you go? Do you choose them with carefulness, knowing you're going to reap just what you sow? It may be thoughts and words you're sowing which into deeds will surely grow; bringing blessings or curses but—you're going to reap just what you sow.

If you sow of the flesh do not expect to reap of the spirit, for you may be sure that by and by when your harvest you garner—you're going to reap just what you sow. Attend the church of your choice regularly and your sowing will be for glory and honor.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 4

proposing an amendment to Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of two new sections to be known as Sections 17 and 18 providing a special fund for the payment of Confederate pensions and providing a method of payment for the construction and equipment of buildings and other permanent improvements at state institutions of higher learning; providing for a five-cent reduction in the maximum allowable state tax on property; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto Sections 17 and 18 which shall read as follows:

"Section 17. In lieu of the state ad valorem tax on property of Seven (7c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 51 of Article 3, as amended, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the Constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Two (2c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations, and the militia of the State of Texas, and for the widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia; provided that the Legislature may reduce the tax rate hereinabove levied.

"Also, there is hereby levied, in addition to all other taxes permitted by the constitution of Texas, a state ad valorem tax on property of Five (5c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation for the purpose of creating a special fund for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping buildings, or other permanent improvements at the designated institutions of higher learning; and the governing board of each of such institutions of higher learning is fully authorized to pledge all or any part of said funds allotted to such institution as hereinafter provided, to secure bonds or notes issued for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and initially equipping such buildings or other permanent improvements at said respective institutions. Such bonds or notes shall be issued in such amounts as may be determined by the governing boards of said respective institutions, shall bear interest not to exceed three (3%) per cent per annum and shall mature serially or otherwise not to exceed ten (10) years from the first (1st) day of January of each year in which such funds are allocated or re-allocated to said respective institutions; provided, the power to issue bonds or notes hereunder is expressly limited to a period of thirty (30) years from the date of the adoption of this amendment; and provided further, that the Five (5c) Cent tax hereby levied shall expire finally upon payment of all bonds hereby authorized; provided further that the state tax on property as heretofore permitted to be levied by Section 9, of Article VIII, as amended, exclusive of the tax necessary to pay the public debt, and of the taxes provided for the benefit of the public free schools, shall never exceed Thirty (30c) Cents on the One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars valuation. All bonds shall be examined and approved by the Attorney General of the State of Texas, and when so approved shall be incontestable; and all approved bonds shall be registered in the office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas. Said bonds shall be sold only through competitive bids and shall never be sold for less than their par value and accrued interest.

"Funds raised from said Five (5c) Cents tax levy for the ten (10) year period beginning January 1, 1948, are hereby allocated to the following institutions of higher learning, and in the following proportions, to wit:

Institution	Per Cent of Total

"Not later than June 1st of the beginning year of each succeeding (10) year period, the Comptroller of Public Accounts of the State of Texas, based on the average long session full-time student enrollment for the preceding five (5) year period of time, shall re-allocate, to the above designated institutions of higher learning then in existence, all funds to be derived from said Five (5) Cent ad valorem tax for said ten (10) year period; and all such designated institutions of higher learning which participate in the allocation or re-allocation of such funds shall not thereafter receive any other state funds for the acquiring or constructing of buildings or other permanent improvements for which said Five (5c) Cents ad valorem tax is herein provided, except in case of fire, flood, storm, or earthquake occurring at any such institution, in which case an appropriation in an amount sufficient to replace the loss so incurred may be made by the Legislature out of other state funds. Swimming Pool Standards Are Subject of Booklet

A pamphlet entitled "Minimum Swimming Pool Standards" is being distributed by the State Health Department throughout the State to operators of swimming pools or other interested parties according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

The standards set up were prepared for the protection of public health and include recommendations of the Joint Committee on Bathing Places of the Conference of State Sanitary Engineers and the American Public Health Association. These standards provide for proper sanitation practices at all types of pools from the "fill and draw type" to the modern "recirculating type."

Some of the specifications for standard sanitation are that the bacterial quality of the water should be equal to that of safe drinking water; frequency of changing or recirculating water should be such that maximum safety will be provided as well as proper economy; the water should be sufficiently disinfected to kill all disease bacteria and standards for clearness and algae control should be enforced.

Dr. Cox advises that the State Department of Health offers many services to the pool manager or operator. These services include free bacteriological analysis of the water, free kits for making chloride residual tests on the water, and information and advisory service on any problem that may be encountered in sanitation, engineering, or operation. All operators or managers are invited to write the State Health Department if they wish to obtain the bulletin on pool operation or a free chlorine residual testing kit.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce still thinks that the amendment to be voted upon in August is all wrong. The college presidents of Texas unanimously agreed to the terms of the constitutional amendment and the division of the 5 cent fund which the amendment would provide. Yet the West Texas C. of C. thinks that the University of Texas and A. & M. College should be so nice that they would agree to a division of the huge fund which has been derived from oil taken from the lands located in West Texas. Of course all of us would like to see our West Texas Colleges get a share of this oil, but there would never, never be the remotest chance to jar loose any of this fund from these two great schools, which need all the money they can get to develop these institutions. Even the State Representative from Lubbock fought this amendment on the grounds that Texas Tech was not being treated fairly in the distribution of the funds. On the other hand the President of Tech is for the amendment. The distribution of funds will be based upon the enrollment of the various colleges, and the distribution will be revised every 10 years so that if any college is getting too much or too little, according to enrollment at those periods, the distribution schedule will be revised in accordance with the new figures. What could be fairer? If the amendment fails, the colleges of Texas will receive no more needed buildings, except as the legislature finds small funds to dole out to meet the overcrowded conditions which now exist in every college.

If the people of Texas really want redistricting, we will be given the chance next year to force the legislature to do its constitutional duty, or an independent agency will step in and do the job. A constitutional amendment will be presented to the people in the November election of 1948 which will set up a commission to do the redistricting job should the legislature fail to act in 1947. The commission will take over and do the job which the legally constituted authority refused to do. Will East Texas vote solidly against the amendment as the representatives in the legislature have done for the past 20 years? We are of the opinion that the legislative representation is following the opinion of the greater part of the people of East Texas. It will be up to West Texas to roll up a majority for this amendment if we expect to get redistricting.

Do we appreciate the right to vote? Do we appreciate the institutions which are giving us fine services? Do we care much about local political affairs, or do we take such institutions for granted? When local elections come up, only a handful of people respond and go to the polls. Witness the school tax election last Saturday! But when presidential election time rolls around we get up a big sweat and rush to the polls. The vote of a Texan in a presidential election is about as useless as anything that we can imagine. By this we are not advocating that the citizens of Randall county stay away from the polls on presidential election years. Far from that. We are urging that our voters take as much interest in local affairs, which are solely our responsibility. We have our duty to perform in going to the polls in every election, not just waiting for a president to be elected.

We are warned that the nation is faced with gasoline shortage. If you stand for a few minutes on the street corner of any city, or drive the highways for a few hours you do not wonder so much. During the war America was called upon to furnish a large part of the gasoline and oil for war purposes. The European nations let us be generous in order to save their supply. We shipped our oil products in spite of the warning from petroleum authorities that we were reaching the danger point. Our big heartedness of the war days is now causing us to wonder. And Russia is now trying to steal the oil fields which were developed by Americans and American cash. Another fine friendly gesture if she gets away with it.

Texas would not be able to harvest the huge wheat crop without the aid of outside combines and labor. As a result combines are flocking to the state from all over the middle west and will work north as the wheat crop ripens. When the combines started to arrive in Texas the owners were promptly arrested by state officers on the theory that the owners were not abiding by the state laws. It is practically impossible to transport combines on the highways without breaking the law. Naturally Texans do not want to see our laws violated—in spite of the continuous death toll as the result of careless driving. It was necessary for a special ruling by the State Highway Department in Austin so that combines could travel the highways.

Pappy O'Daniel will return to Texas when this session of Congress ends and will make a series of speeches over the state. Recent polls show that Pappy has slipped fast in the esteem of the voters. It is revealed that Coke Stevenson has a clear majority of the votes of the state against any combination that might come out next year, including Pappy. O'Daniel is revealed to be down in third place, with only 21% of the voters favoring his re-election at this time. So far as our vote is concerned, we will favor Coke Stevenson against the field, regardless of who may run.

President Truman warned any aggressor nation that America will not stand for foolishness. It is assumed that his remarks were aimed at Russia, which is trying to gobble up all of Europe. The President is trying to make a case for compulsory military training. So far as the people generally are concerned, we doubt if the appeal of the President will have any more effect than the appeal made by President Washington, who was for compulsory military training. Truman's quotation from Washington did not strengthen the case.

President Truman will not act on either the tax reduction bill or the labor bill until he returns from Canada on Friday. In the meanwhile all kinds of predictions are going the rounds. Just take your choice in guessing as to what the President will do. Unfortunately the President will do just what he thinks will carry the most political weight in 1948. If he thinks that the veto of these measures will help his chance in 1948, the President will be sure to veto the bills. What a mess we are in when politics rules the nation.

President Truman will be sharply criticised by the people of the nation unless he throws his official weight behind the election fraud investigation in Kansas City. Stalling an election is a mighty crude thing in this nation, but when the ballots are stolen to cover up the fraud that indicates a sure sign of guilt.

Governor Jester is being urged to veto the bill which was passed by the legislature whereby precincts in "dry" counties may vote "wet" without the necessity of a county wide election. Under the present law, when a county votes dry, the entire county must vote wet before single precinct elections may be held. The wets say that this is unfair advantage for the dries. Perhaps so, but when human values are considered and the destruction under the rule of liquor are taken into consideration, who can find anything good in the open saloon, or in joints in which liquor is dispensed?

President Truman joined in attacking the proposed cut in agricultural benefits by the Republican controlled Congress. We have talked with real farmers who agree that many of the benefits should be cut. This is especially true in 48 state offices where huge office forces are running over each other, trying to find something to do. We note that War Assets Administration in Texas is firing 900 unnecessary office workers. When will the Democrats start firing Washington war workers, who have nothing to do?

HARDEN & HEATH

It is hoped that the arrest of gangs of thieves recently will put a stop of robberies in Canyon. But we doubt it. Every town in the Panhandle is going through the same unpleasant experience. Petty robbery is in every town. Officers cannot be at every part of the towns at the same time. Officers have already been able to round up a number of gangs, and one bunch was stopped by gun fire Saturday night. Each and every citizen must be on the alert, and give every possible aid to peace officers.

While we are thinking about law enforcement, what about those who are making race tracks out of the streets of Canyon? The new pavement on Eighth Avenue is being converted into a racing ground according to residents who are fearful that the speeding cars will kill some child before it can be stopped. One officer stated that he tried to stop a speeding car, but the driver ran away from him. How are we going to stop this reckless and fast driving? What do you propose?

The increased number of plane accidents are not doing the cause of aviation any good. The question naturally arises, are our planes less safe now than during the war, or have our pilots become more careless?

Hot weather is the order of the day, and it is welcomed.

Gas and oil are being used at wartime peak rate due to heavy motor travel and increased industrial activity. Stocks built up last winter are shrinking. Greater use of home oil burners (500,000 installed since the war) may complicate the problem this winter—barring an industrial slow-down.

New General Motors models for 1948 will be limited to Buicks, Cad-

Devin-Lemons Vows Exchanged Home Ceremony

Miss Mary Ruth Devin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Devin of this city became the bride of Mr. William Franklin Lemons, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Lemons of Sanford, Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

The wedding was performed in the home of the bride's parents with Joe Watson, minister of the Fritch Church of Christ, officiating.

Nuptial vows were exchanged in a double ring service as the couple stood before a background fashioned of baskets of roses and gladioli, in pink and white, flanked on either side with tall white tapers in floor candelabra.

"Always" was sung by a vocal trio, composed of Misses Dorothy Jean Brown, Betty Lou and Edna Sue Hood.

Miss Geneva Ann Devin of this city, sister of the bride, and Miss Norma Jean Parish of Panhandle, cousin of the bride, lighted the candles preceding the ceremony. Miss Devin was attired in a dress of blue, and Miss Parish wore aqua.

Attending her sister as maid of honor was Miss Lorella Devin, who wore a dress of pink with a corsage of white carnations.

Eugene Reno of Sanford served the bridegroom as best man.

The bride chose for her wedding, a dress of white with lace trim, which was designed with keyhole neckline and peplum skirt. She carried a bouquet of pink gladioli.

Mrs. Devin, the bride's mother, wore a dress of blue, and the bridegroom's mother was attired in a print of floral sheer. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

The bride was enrolled as a student in Canyon High School during the past year, and the bridegroom was graduated from Phillips High School and during the past term attended Freed Hardeman College at Henderson, Tenn.

The couple will be at home in Sanford for the summer, and will go to Tennessee in the fall where the bridegroom will continue his education.

Following the wedding a reception was held for members of the bridal party, and immediate relatives and friends.

The bride's table was covered with a cloth of white lace, and centered with an arrangement of gladioli and roses, in pink and white, with white tapers in crystal holders on either side.

Mrs. Leo S. Scott presided at the punch bowl, and the three-tiered wedding cake, topped with miniature bride and groom and decorated in pink and white, was served by Mrs. Herschel Jennings and Mrs. Mike Saylor.

Invited guests attending the wedding and reception were: Mrs. Edna Duncan and daughter, Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Wirt, Mrs. Elmer Shelnutt and daughters, Loree and Mary Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Bonner, Mrs. Maggie Hopper, Mrs. Leo Scott and daughter, Jeanine, Mrs. Joe Watson and son, Joe, Boyd Lemons and Antonia Hernandez.

TIME . . . IS RUNNING OUT!

No one wants to get caught short these days.

But a lot of farmers may find themselves in that shape if needed repairs are not made before the opening of spring work.

Shortages and strikes have badly curtailed machinery production.

Needed repairs are almost impossible to get.

If your farming equipment breaks down during the busy season it will simply be too bad.

We urge every farmer to check his equipment now, and not get caught short at harvest time.

Your combine will have to do another big job this harvest. See to it that repairs are made now, and not wait until the rush of harvest.

WARREN'S

His Tenants Name Him 'Best Landlord'

Tenants Never Sign a Lease; He Sends No Bills.

DOBS FERRY, N. Y. — The Suchins, some 27 years ago, gave a small party for their first child.

The party, as father Harry Suchin looks back on it today, was what ultimately gave him the infernal title of "the best landlord in the world."

"There was some singing—just a little," says the 53-year-old man reflectively, "but in the morning the landlord said there was too much noise and we had to get out."

There's nothing like that in Rosalind Gardens.

Rosalind Gardens is a 60-family apartment house high on a Hudson river bank and Suchin, who built it, has been managing it the way he would like to have it managed if he were a tenant instead of the landlord.

One of Suchin's long-time tenants told about the deal.

"First, Harry never makes his tenants sign a lease," Lawyer John E. Baker said. "That was true even in the depression days. Harry said he didn't think people should be forced to live where they didn't want to."

"He never sends bills. People just drop into Harry's apartment around the first of the month and pay their rent. In all the 20 years, he's raised rents just once—after the depression eased up."

"Nobody ever asks for or gets receipts for anything. Harry always has open house, and tenants are forever dropping in for a chat and a glass of beer. Mrs. Suchin makes wonderful cookies, too. There's never been anyone evicted from the place, and Harry likes nothing better than families with children."

"All through the years there's been an enormous waiting list—although, of course, that's nothing unusual now. During the depression Harry carried along any number of tenants who lost their jobs and told him they'd have to move because they couldn't pay the rent."

$44,000 in Cash Found In Old Trunk of Woman

COLFAX, WIS. — Mrs. Daniel Murphy, aged widow of a Wisconsin pioneer, died after instructing relatives to be sure to look in an old trunk she had brought with her from Norway when she was 5 years old.

Her brother, George Knutson, 78, finally got around to inspecting the trunk.

In it he found nearly $44,000 in old coins and currency. Nearly $2,000 of the money was in gold coins now out of circulation. The rest was in large, old-style bills which were withdrawn from use years ago.

Poisonous Waste Is Killing Many Fish in Waters of Gulf

CORAL GABLES, FLA. — Untold trillions of yellowish microscopic blobs—less than one-thousandth of an inch in length—are sweeping in a lethal yellow tide from the lower Florida keys to Cape Sable in the Gulf of Mexico, leaving millions of dead fish in their wake.

The deadly tide is composed of a previously unknown type of plankton, the poisonous waste from which are killing the fish, Dr. F. G. Walton Smith, University of Miami director of marine laboratory, reported.

Dr. Smith said Miami scientists had concluded that the plankton, which in normal amounts serves as the basic food for all marine life, has always been in the gulf, but that some freak of nature has caused this particular type to reproduce in astronomical numbers.

Caste System in Cemeteries Is Abolished by U. S. Army

WASHINGTON. — The army ordered that the caste system be abolished in military cemeteries.

A directive by War Secretary Patterson said no distinction should be made between location of graves of officers and enlisted men in new sections of national cemeteries.

"The policy of providing uniform burial facilities without distinction as to rank or race of deceased veterans will be effected as new sections are laid out," the directive said.

The army said that because of the large number of veterans now entitled to burial in national cemeteries an expansion of facilities has become necessary. This will be accomplished largely through additions to existing cemeteries.

Check Your Shooting Irons, Theaters Warn Small Fry

MADISON, IND. — Check your shootin' irons at the box office, apprehensive theater managers announced.

The return of the cap pistol prompted local theaters to band together and rule that all guns be placed on a special table in the lobby.

Indiana's legislature recently legalized the cap pistol again. It was outlawed along with firecrackers for a number of years.

Theater managers said they feared youthful patrons might try to join in the shooting during showing of western pictures.

What this country needs is more boxcars and fewer soapboxes.

War Prisoners Recall Pies Concocted From Dry Milk

The average "ex-krigle" (prisoner of war in Germany) probably has had many delicious desserts since returning to the United States, but it is doubtful that any dessert ever will taste quite as good to him as his first "krigle-pie" after being released from solitary confinement.

Prisoners of War received the majority of their food from Red Cross parcels. Each parcel contained a can of dry whole milk which came to be one of the most important items, valued not only for its nutrition, but for the many diversified foods which could be made from it.

At first, prisoners used the dry milk according to directions, for drinking purposes, but it wasn't long before it was discovered that dry milk had many other uses. It isn't known who discovered that dry milk, mixed with butter or oleomargarine, and whipped until fluffy, then sweetened and flavored, made a rich and satisfying pie filling. However, it wasn't long before all "krigles" were having dry milk pies for dessert, and any person who drank his milk was considered extravagant.

Basically, all the recipes for pies were the same. The crust was made in one of two ways. One method was to grind the crackers from the Red Cross parcels and, using this as flour, bake in the normal manner. The other method was to soak the crackers overnight in milk, then spread the swelled crackers to cover the bottom of the pie tin and set in the sun to dry. The latter method was preferred because of the fuel shortage and limited baking space.

Blood Replacement Cited For Reducing War Deaths

"Adequate timely replacement of blood was an exceedingly important factor in the reduced mortality of battle casualties admitted to hospitals in World War II," according to Dr. Howard E. Snyder of Winfield, Kas., writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Dr. Snyder states that observation and laboratory investigations revealed that transfusions of whole blood rather than of plasma, the liquid portion of the blood, were needed for battle casualty patients suffering from shock. "The advantages of adequate blood replacement with whole blood are manifold," states the author. "Mortality from shock is lowered. Prolonged adequate surgical intervention is possible when the replacement of blood is adequate. Operations which lasted three to five hours were not uncommon; in a number of instances they lasted even longer with satisfactory results. In the early days a few wounded persons lost their lives because surgical intervention was inadequate or was cut short due to the patient's poor condition and to the fact that gas gangrene later developed in an unhealed wound (one from which contaminated tissue had not been removed) or one inadequately debrided. It reduces morbidity. It permits early radical reparative surgical operations."

Revamped Communications

Forty years ago Lee de Forest gave his invention, the three-element electronic tube, to the world. It completely changed the methods of "wireless" communication. It took the place of the arc and spark for generating electromagnetic waves, producing beautifully uniform waves which made possible the use of voice instead of the Morse code for communication. It substituted also for the variety of inefficient detectors and made use of the loudspeaker possible, for it could receive, detect and amplify its own waves. Recognition extended to De Forest, in the form of financial reward of scholarly honors, has been very inadequate. Next to atomic energy the De Forest tube holds the record for the speed with which it was applied to an unnumbered array of purposes.

Sagging Mattresses

Sleeping continuously on a sagging mattress can cause a permanently curved spine which can be disfiguring and injurious to the general health as well as painful and crippling. Sometimes this results in one shoulder being higher than the other, in a tilted pelvic bone, vertebrae that are out of line or some other unbalanced bone shape. Only a level, resilient mattress can prevent this condition, for it properly supports the body, keeping the spine level throughout the long hours of sleep. While the sleep equipment of children, whose bones are more pliable, should be especially watched, damage can also be caused by adults sleeping on wornout mattresses or springs.

Delaware Flower

The peach blossom was adopted as the official floral emblem of the State of Delaware on May 9, 1888. Prior to the passage of this act there had been much sentiment among some of the citizens of the state who favored the golden rod as the state flower. As result of this sentiment agriculturalists and school children sent petitions to the legislature pointing out that Delaware had the reputation of being the "Peach State" since her orchards contained more than 800,000 peach trees, which yielded a crop worth thousands of dollars. These reasons prompted adoption of the peach blossom as the official state flower.

3 MINUTE FICTION INVITATION TO DEATH

By Yale Roe

WNU Features.

I had made a date with my former college roommate, Ted Lawson, for seven o'clock; a date for dinner, and for death.

As Ted lit a cigarette I first noticed how gray his hair had become. But it was 20 years since our graduation day when I had last seen him. The passing of time had changed us both but did not dull my memory of that day.

After the graduation exercises I had started looking for Ted. I had known him for a year but lately he seemed to be acting strangely. He was uneasy when with me and it was not long before I knew why.

Suddenly I caught a glimpse of his curly black hair in the crowd. Making my way towards Ted I saw Susan, my fiancée, with him. Susan and I were going to be married as soon as I found a job.

"Congratulations, Ted!" I clasped his hand.

"Thanks," he said quietly. "Same to you."

As I put my arm around Susan and leaned over to kiss her, she averted her head and stepped back. It was then that I sensed that something was wrong. Stunned, I heard her tell me that she was in love with Ted, that she had been seeing him secretly for weeks. From a conglomeration of bemuddled thoughts I could realize only one thing; that it was all over.

I ordered a drink but sat for hours without touching it.

Ted married Susan the following week. They moved to Rhode Island where they lived for only a year before Susan became ill. Within a few days she died; the doctors said it was pneumonia. Perhaps it was poetic justice. Perhaps neither of us was worthy of her.

I had never thought of myself as one who would someday commit murder. But with every passing day, month and year my hatred towards Ted Lawson grew until my wrath developed into a frenzy. But my revenge would not be complete if I too would have to die. Consequently, I had long thought out my perfect crime. Over a period of 20 years an act such as murder could be planned most carefully.

Actually it was very simple. About five years ago, while out of Illinois I had bought a medicine which was poison if taken internally. The effects had all the symptoms of a seizure. I had bided my time for many years so it was nothing to wait another few years until the moment of opportunity would arrive.

The bus boy cleared our dinner dishes from the table. As the waiter approached with our coffee I realized that the time for my revenge was finally upon me.

Then I noticed a blond woman of about 30 shuffle past our table swinging her hips in time to the music. Ted looked up and smiled. His eyes followed her across the room. This was my chance but I had to act quickly. With the agility of a cat I shot my arm towards Ted's cup and the deed was done. The drops of poison floated around in the cream and then sunk to the bottom of the cup.

After we had finished our desserts and coffee we sat for a while smoking and talking. Suddenly Ted burst out laughing. His whole burly frame shook with laughter until I could not stand it any longer. "What is it? What is it?" I found myself shouting.

He said, "You know, I'm a heel. Why it's really funny. When you went to buy your cigarettes, I got suspicious of you. I guess it was because I was always afraid you would do something to me for marrying Susan." He laughed some more.

"Suspicious. What do you mean?" I asked.

"I don't honestly know," he answered. "But suddenly I began to wonder if after all these years you would hate me and if you would try to harm me. So I switched our coffees. You know, like they do in the movies. But heck, you couldn't hurt a fly. That's funny, isn't it?"

The volume of his laugh seemed to swell in my ears. I rose slowly from my chair and walked toward the door. Somewhere in the back of my mind I heard Ted calling me but it did not matter. I knew that now nothing would ever matter.

The world may soon be calling Uncle Sam "The Loan Ranger."

New oil fields in Russia about 1,000 miles east of Moscow are counted on to push the Soviet Union's annual output beyond 35,000,000 tons in the next three years. Vast deposits of easily accessible oil recently have been discovered in the area between the Volga River and the Ural Mountains. An immediate increase in drilling has been ordered. The new gushers are expected to provide a third of Russia's oil production and to enable the Soviets to surpass goals set in the Five-Year Plan. Oil reserves in Eastern Russia will stimulate the planned development of industries in that area.

Boy, 16, Lives Year In Shack With Dog

Mongrel Puts Up Fierce Fight Against Officers.

MT. CLEMENS, MICH.—The tale of an orphaned boy and his faithful mongrel dog who lived a primitive existence for more than a year within the shadow of this city unfolded with the arrest of the 16-year-old youth.

The boy was taken into custody by Macomb county sheriff's deputies only after they had overpowered the black-and-white mongrel Bozo. The dog fought fiercely to protect his master.

The boy was sought on complaint of a farmer that he had stolen chickens. Deputies said he would not be prosecuted.

The dog is being taken care of. The boy will be turned over to a Catholic juvenile agency in Detroit in an attempt to find a home for both.

Deputy John Dye said the boy, mild-mannered and polite, told the following story:

His father and mother died two years ago and he went to live with an uncle. He left the uncle after a quarrel with a cousin.

For a time he worked for $15 a week in a grocery but the owner sold the store and he lost the job. He then went from door to door earning money at odd jobs.

He occasionally earned a meal but usually ate bread, cookies and canned goods which he heated on a crude stove in a shack where he lived.

Dye said the youth survived one of Michigan's worst winters with only a single, ragged blanket and the feeble heat from the stove to warm his rough abode.

His clothes were in rags. He was wearing a pair of pants purchased for him by his father before he died, a cotton shirt and a jacket and shoes he had purchased with pennies saved when he was working in the grocery.

Dye said the boy was making his way north to rejoin the uncle, who now lives in a tent in the Marine City area. The uncle is the only relative or friend the boy has, the deputy added.

The deputy quoted the youth as saying he was preparing to stew the two chickens for food for himself and the dog when he was seized.

Trailer Is Home for 12 of Evicted Family

COVINGTON, IND.—Clinton Vestal crowded his wife and 10 children into a one-room trailer home and declared that he had about given up house-hunting.

He said he would settle for a tent, if he could find one large enough.

Vestal, 56; his wife, Nancy, 36, and their children, ranging from 9 months to 15 years of age, were evicted from their four-room bungalow on a muddy country lane.

They spent the next three days living in the community room or the Fountain County Courthouse. A sympathetic resident who heard of their plight finally offered them use of his trailer.

Atlanta Man Makes Machine To Scale and Clean Fish

ATLANTA, GA.—An Atlantan has produced a machine to scale and clean fish quicker than you can say "Isaiah Walton."

Nathan Kaplan, a gadget man who previously perfected a "non-fall" bed slat, a "non-slip-out" shirt-tail, and other devices, has announced completion of the fish cleaning equipment.

The machine, made up of numerous gadgets, shafts, belts, brushes, brackets, rods, metal teeth and nuts, has one place on which to fasten the fish, two at a time.

He gave newsmen a treat in Atlanta by proving the machine would do its work.

He fastened the clamps on the fish. Their scales flew hither and yon. Their sides became smooth, top and bottom.

Still another gadget splits the fish. The machine, Kaplan claims, will clean 10 fish a minute.

The inventor further claims that there's no other fish cleaning equipment available today. In most fish markets fish are still scraped by hand.

He has three patents on the device that he expects to sell to manufacturers.

Town Splits on Question of An Annuity for Man of 106

EDMONTON, ALTA.—The Alberta provincial government and residents of Wetaskiwin, Alta., battled over whether 106-year-old Jim Winter should receive an old age pension.

Jim's fellow townspeople contended he was eligible for a pension, but the government said he could not qualify because he received $2,500 from the sale of his farm three years ago. At that time, the province said, Winter was advised to purchase government annuities, but declined to do so.

"What man over 100 years old would purchase annuities?" asked the townspeople. The outcome was not determined.

VIC strode ahead into the depot with his suitcase and Mary's grey tweed bag. Last night this had seemed such a perfect idea. Vic and she were dancing when he suggested it.

"We can be married right away over the line—no waiting around. Don't fuss about a lot of clothes," he had said. "Just wait, I'll dress you like a doll."

The first time he said that, Mary felt tingling from head to toe. She hated her job in the noisy restaurant. Every day the trays seemed heavier and clumsier to the manager. Vic's cheery flirting at the counter had been a welcome diversion.

Vic set the bags down beside a long empty bench and she watched him hurry to the ticket-window. How queer, she thought, just two years ago, when she left Pine Creek—it was April then, too—she had entered the city through this same station.

Then Mom had tucked a spray of purple lilac in the strap of the suitcase—"So you'll not be forgetting the lilac tree."

Mary smiled. She was remembering how she had called even the tiniest shrub a lilac tree. Someone came and sat close to her. Vic, it was, with the tickets in his hand. "What are you grinning about?" he asked. "Oh, nothing," she answered.

He let it go at that. He laid his arm across her shoulders, drew her close, while his pudgy fingers kept squeezing her arm. His lips almost touched hers.

Mary turned her face away, trying to ignore him. She noticed a woman who had entered the depot.

Vic's cheery flirting at the counter had been a welcome diversion.

The woman carried an armful of hauntingly sweet lilacs. She brushed past Mary. One spray fell near her.

"Vic," she said, touching his coat sleeve. "Pick up that lilac for me, won't you?"

"You're crazy. That weed! Why would you want that?" he asked. "Just you wait. I'll get you roses, a roomful of red roses."

MARY did not answer. She was seeing lilac trees, purple and white, all in bloom back home. She could almost smell their sweetness. Vic swore under his breath. Stunned, Mary turned to him. A swarthy man, with hat pulled low, was approaching them. His face was vaguely familiar.

"Who is he, Vic?" Mary whispered, as she tried to recollect where or if she had met him. Vic paid no attention to her. Instead he spoke sharply to the man.

"What's the big idea, following me here? Didn't I tell everyone to lay low? I meant it. Mary and me are going away to—going away to be hitched."

Mary noticed uneasily how he hesitated as he spoke. The stranger's eyes shifted to Mary. She caught a glimpse of a scar high on one cheek, of shifty, dark eyes.

Something clicked. That picture in last night's paper. The column about another hold-up. Mary shivered—like when someone dropped a lump of snow down her back when she was a kid.

Then—"It's like this, boss—" He was whispering something in Vic's ear. "Boss." Startled, Mary tried to listen closer.

Vic swore again. His voice was harsh. "No!" he shouted.

Mary shivered. She looked around, hoping no one heard him. "Listen, Baby," he said, turning to her. "I've got some business, some mighty important business to tend to. You wait here. I'll be back, pronto."

MARY watched them step into a large flashy car. At first she was frightened. Then there was no feeling in her body but a queer numbness. Only her brain stirred. It was clearing, like a mist rising after sun-rise.

Suddenly she grabbed up her grey tweed bag and almost ran to the ticket window. There were only two ahead of her. Breathlessly she asked the agent about the train to Pine Creek.

"Yes, Ma'am! In three minutes, better hurry," he said as he stamped her ticket.

Clutching the bit of paper in her fingers when he handed it to her, all of a sudden she felt as if she had been running through a dark, dense forest and had that minute stepped out into the warm clean sunlight.

Glutamic acid has been found to increase human intelligence. It's smart to the taste, too.

Did you ever wonder whether newspaper reporters lead as interesting and exciting lives as you've heard they do? Well, I was inclined to doubt it but I've just finished reading the proofs of a book which will be off the press most any time now and after reading the book, which is entitled "Cub Reporter," I'm inclined to believe that newspaper folks do have experiences as varied and thrilling as the novels and the movies proclaim.

"Cub Reporter" is not fiction but tells about some of the events that a police reporter on a city daily "covered" as a part of his daily work. The author, who was then just out of high school (this was back in 1916 and 1917) tells about Revinsky, the "one-thumb slayer" and "scar-faced killer," as he was known. Revinsky, convicted of murder, escaped and, as a posse unwittingly approached his hiding place, he drew a bead on the cub reporter but was dissuaded from shooting by a companion.

Then there was Wild Dan, who killed six people at one time. Wild Dan threatened to kill the cub reporter and, 10 minutes later, Wild Dan was dead. Of course that's not the whole story.

And the book tells of the man who arose from the dead; of grizzled police officers and the tales they told around headquarters at midnight when things were quiet, and there are word-pictures of old time reporters, a colorful crew, and of Bud the bloodhound officer; C. P. J. Mooney, a great editor, and the climax is the story of Frank, the lovable little office boy.

"Cub Reporter" was written by—let me see, what was that fellow's name? Oh, yes, I remember now. "Cub Reporter" was written by Boyce House.

Collegiate Radio Field Advances

Low-Powered Stations Are Manned by Students In College.

NEW YORK. — The glamor of radio has supplanted the austere debating society and chess club as the key extra-curricular activity in 66 progressive campuses. Youthful announcers, engineers, directors and actors man the low-powered broadcasting stations which make up the coast-to-coast Intercollegiate Broadcasting system, with an estimated 125,000 listeners.

Approximately 100 IBS alumni enter the radio profession annually, and the system is looked upon as one of the industry's best proving grounds for talent.

College radio was born 11 years ago at Brown university, where undergraduates George Abraham and David Borst, now IBS executive chairman and technical director, respectively, toyed with the idea of their own intramural broadcast station. WBRU, their brain child, today boasts a technical plant comparable to that of many an independent commercial station.

Late Broadcasts.
Most of the campus stations broadcast from 7 to 11 in the evening, although many feature wake-up shows and post-midnight programs for all-night crammers.

A typical night's schedule includes news, sports, popular and classical music, drama, comedy and educational shows. Special events coverage is handled to the envy of many a college newspaper.

At WKCR, Columbia, for instance, a wire recorder is used for on-the-scene accounts of spot news happenings and interviews with visiting celebrities.

Home and away sports events are broadcast by most of the IBS affiliates. WHFV, Haverford; WVBR, Cornell, and WYBC, Yale, are currently vying for top distance honors.

Special telephone company lines are rented for the remote pickups.

David Linton, who but a few years ago produced dramatic shows at WSRN, Swarthmore, is program director of Intercollegiate Broadcasting system. Keeping the network coordinated is a full-time job says Linton, who envisions a nationwide system of 250 student-operated stations.

Fans Phone In.

While serious music leads all campus popularity polls, the all-request shows of dance tunes are the bane of local switchboard operators; the disc jockeys often elicit a phone call every minute from "hep" listeners.

"Limited area coverage" is the key to campus stations' selectivity of audience. Through low-powered transmitters student programs can be channeled for dormitory and fraternity audiences only.

When a student has finished four years of college radio — writing plays, running turntables, acting, fixing loose connections, staying before a "live" mike continually — he is considered ready for a vital spot in the broadcasting industry.

Return of War Dead Will Cost Nation 187 Million Dollars
WASHINGTON. — It will cost about 187.5 million dollars for the final burial of America's World War II dead, latest war department figures indicated.

This compares with an original estimate of 200 million dollars.

Congress last July appropriated 92.5 million dollars to start the program — search for the missing dead which numbered 64,989 on V-J Day, identification, concentration in temporary overseas cemeteries of remains found in isolated graves, and preparations for return to the United States of possibly 228,000.

Before fall, congress will be asked for 95 million dollars to complete the program.

The first bodies will be returned from cemeteries in Hawaii and from Henri Chapelle cemetery in Belgium. They are to reach the United States about October 1.

Amputation of Both Legs Kept Secret From Boy, 11

MALDEN, MASS. — Nurses swallow hard when Glennwood Brann Jr. talks about playing baseball with the other kids now that he's on the road to recovery — for they haven't told the courageous 11-year-old youngster yet that both his legs have been amputated above the knees.

Glen was burned from toes to waist when his clothing caught fire after companions tied him to a post in a game of cowboys and Indians.

Glen still "feels" the legs he has lost because the severed nerves still carry sensory messages to his brain, attendants said.

Son of Fire Lieutenant Is Burned to Death in His Bed

CINCINNATI, OHIO. — Lt. Mark Devine of the fire department made a run to his own home to learn that his 6-year-old son, Mickey, an invalid, had burned to death in his bed. Mrs. Devine said her efforts to beat out the flames were futile. Several other children had been playing in the room and it was believed one of them set the bed afire with a cigaret lighter.

Honor Plaques Are Awarded by W. T. Students

Announcement of the winners of two plaques by outstanding members of the senior class and recognition of the junior class were features of the annual Senior Day assembly held Thursday morning by the class of 1947 at West Texas State College.

Miss Mary Helen Mickey of Canyon was the recipient of the Pi Omega plaque presented annually to the outstanding senior girl while Ben Brotherton of Littlefield was named as the outstanding senior man to receive the Epsilon Beta award.

Miss Mickey, a piano major, is a member of Mary E. Hudspeth and Alpha Chi, honor societies; band, chorus, orchestra, Variety Show, Swing Band, and was selected for Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities this year.

Ben Brotherton an agriculture major was vice-president of his sophomore class; president of Alpha Chi; president of International Relations Club; member of the Veterans' Association; and was chosen for Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities when he was a junior and this year.

The program for the occasion began with a procession of capped and gowned seniors were escorted by juniors to their places in the center section of the auditorium. The program opened with a vocal solo, "The Rosary," by Ethelbert Nevin, sung by Miss Mary Abbott and Mrs. Mary Evelyn Alquist with Miss Mary Helen Mickey accompanying at the piano.

H. R. Fulton next played a piano solo, Brahms, "Capriccio."

Following the presentation of the Pi Omega plaque by Mrs. Alquist, president of the sorority, to Miss Mickey and of the Epsilon Beta plaque to Mr. Brotherton by Avert Lair, president of the fraternity, Jack Andrews of Pampa, president of the class, announced the gift of $100 to an exchange fellowship for a foreign student. The gift was acknowledged by Dr. J. A. Hill, president of the college.

As a token of appreciation for his service during the year, the class next gave a remembrance to their sponsor, Herschel Coffee, professor of economics.

Final number on the program was the capping of the juniors by the Class of 1947 as a tribute of their assumption of the duties of seniors. Miss Mary Hanna, president of the junior class and Personality Queen of the school, made the response for the Class of 1948. After the singing of the Alma Mater, the seniors and juniors left the auditorium in their recessional march.
